In a far away place in England by the sea lived a man and his cat named Mowzer and the man's name was Tom. They liked going out to sea from a harbor to get fish to eat and they loved it every time they went they got lots but the next day they didn't catch a fish. Days later they did not catch a fish so the next day they went out. Tom's cat is as fluffy as cotton wool. Tom's cat has a dark black fur with light white on it. Mowzer's whiskers are as white as a cloud. Mowzer's fur is as fluffy as a cloud. One winter there was a hurricane storm that was as dangerous as a ~~thunder~~ lightning bolt. It was so dangerous that the fishermen could not get fish from the sea. Although out the days the storm started to die but not yet. So everyone stayed at home and ~~could~~ not have fish. In the end they prayed in a house. The next day they had everyone had to have fish but playing with their mum and dad. One of the boats slipped off. What kind of storm was it said Tom. The next day the kids found a way to have fish so they had fish for a very long time. Then the days and nights were

Soon the storm was so bad that no one could get out to sea but one day Tom felt courageous and brave so Tom and Mowzer tried to get out to sea but they could not because the waves were too big but Mowzer was smart so he sang to the storm saying that it would calm down. Then they were able to get out to sea and get fish. Later on they got hit by a enormous wave. Tom felt like the storm was getting worse. Then the waves were so big the stuff was falling off. After a while the waves got smaller and higher water on they ended up at a place where the storm was as strong as a brick and the waves got so big that it flew over the boat and splashed the boat hard but the three got on board but it was hot then soon they had a the storm calming down and they got fish but still it was not enough because Tom needed about 100/100 of fish for everyone and he went about ten 10 times and then they were happy and went home. Then everyone barked the fish but the storm was still there so everyone was
