c.o. We like to use ambitious and varied ^{vocabulary} ~~words~~ in our writing.

Yesterday, using English, we traveled back into the Stone age. We saw a mammoth and the mammoth was surrounded by lots of hated, angry Stone age people trying to kill it with their spears.

In the Stone age they did not have beautiful ^{of} hair or clothes, instead they wore very little small animal skins. Stone age people were unintelligent because they could not write or speak a language.

Now we have Textphones so we can text. We have technology compare to the Stone Age. We ^{have} ~~have~~ better technology because we get to watch TV in our homes and we have better homes, full of exciting stuff! Today we have a kind Queen and serious, hard working Prime Minister who runs our beautiful country.

In the ~~future~~ ^{future, perhaps} they will have hair ^{don't} ~~have~~ hair to like hold bolds.

Well done Charlie, you have tried really hard to meet the LO!
